BRAND WORLD 15

OTT levels the digital playing field

With more than 30 over-the-top players, the country has the second-highest per capita consumption of online video in the world, says KPMG

URVI MALVANIA Mumbai, 5 September

n a country that boasts of the cheapest mobile data in the world, over-the-top or videostreaming platforms are no longer niche or premium, but are instead turning into a magnet for the masses according to a report by KPMG. Released on Thursday, the report (Unravelling the digital video consumer) notes that the OTT platforms are attracting viewers across age, income and locational sub sets.

fairly heterogeneous, there is a trend of homogeneity that was observed in terms of consumption frequency and duration across consumer categories," the report said. And this is what is making it an attractive mass medium for advertisers, who are particularly buoyed by the sharp growth in rural internet penetration that is up to 24 per cent in 2018 from 13 per cent in 2016.

Girish Menon, partner and head Media & Entertainment, KPMG in India, said, "We see a homogenous pattern of consumption emerging cutting across age groups, income levels and professions.' OTT platforms are bringing about a shift in perception when it comes to mass general entertainment. Instead of the traditional soap that drew the mass viewer to TV, the report said movies and sport are likely to be 'driver content' with original series, likely to be an important part of the toolbox. In terms of business models, the OTT era will resemble the cable TV universe at least in the near future. There will be 'bundled' and 'the a-la-carte' models, with telecom/internet service provider (ISP)/ network partners, original equipment manufacturers (OEMs), broadcasters, movie studios, tech aggregator platforms all playing a key role.

Interestingly, viewers come from all parts of the country but exhibit a common viewership pattern. People in metros spent around 9.8 hours a week while those in tier 1 and 2 markets spent not much less, 7.5 hours and 7.9 hours a week respectively.

Viewership is also age agnostic. "While the customer sets are Users between 15 and 24 years consumed 8.2 hours of OTT content a week, at par with the 8.1 hours per week consumed by those in the 50 years and above age bracket, the report found.

The young want variety however, with up to 2.5 platforms per user against 2 per user in the older bracket that demonstrates a greater propensity to pay.

Women also download more OTT apps than men, but spend less time on them, 7.3 hours as against 8.7 hours in males.

The 'massification' of OTT as the report calls it, has led to the platforms adopting various ways and means to capture the consumers' attention, and in some cases, share of wallet.

Rishika Lulla Singh, CEO, Eros Digital, said, "As data and digital infrastructure have become accessible, the market has widened. We strive to constantly engage existing consumers and expand our reach by offering new and innovative services." Content differentiation will be key as 87 per cent respondents said that freshness of content and its uniqueness are the main reasons for subscription.

HOOKED

Online video platforms are the new purveyors of mass entertainment. How do viewers engage with their digital masters?

MOBILE FIRST

87% of the respondents watch on mobile phones, a small group, 5% of respondents, used internet enabled smart TVs

29% of the respondents watched online video even during office hours (10 AM-6 PM), mobile furthers the 'anytime, anywhere' nature of online video

3 out of 10 respondents access OTT content through the telecom platforms

GLUED TO THE SCREEN

On an average, viewers spend over an hour a day (around 70 min daily, 8.2 hours a week), hit the screen 12.5 times a week, spending close to 40 minutes a day on a single session

Long form content is picking up as 30% respondents said their average session lasts more than 45 minutes. But short form content is still relevant, with 25-30% respondents across age groups watching for less than 20 minutes at one go

LANGUAGE MATTERS

30% of respondents prefer watching in languages other than Hindi and English. Native language preference highest in South India

30% of the respondents prefer movies, another 20% go for movie related content such as 'music videos'

Single authority mechanism for GST refunds soon

According to the formula for dividing GST assessees, state tax officials administer and control 90 per cent of the assessees below the ₹1.5-crore annual turnover, and the remaining 10 per cent is done by central tax officers. Above ₹1.5 crore, the load is equally divided.

At a few ports, there are other errors holding up payments," he added.

Chidambaram sent to Tihar jail

Holding that economic offences court can peruse the case diary or materials collected during investigation by probe agencies, Justices Banumathi and Bopanna said that though they had received the documents in a sealed cover from the ED during the hearing of the case, they had not perused as it could have caused some prejudice to Chidambaram. "In the present case, though sealed cover was received by this court, we have consciously refrained from opening the sealed cover and perusing the documents. Lest, if we peruse the materials collected by the respondent and make some observations thereon, it might cause prejudice to the appellant and the other co-accused who are not before this court when they are to pursue the appropriate relief before various forum," the apex court said. The court also rejected Chidambaram's plea seeking directions that probe agencies should be asked to produce transcripts of the investigations they had done so far, to prove that he had not been evasive in his replies. The CBI had told the apex court that the former Union minister had been evasive in his replies and thus it was necessary to probe him in custody. "Since the interrogation of the accused and the questions put to the accused and the answers given by the accused are part of the investigation which is purely within the domain of the investigation officer, unless satisfied that the police officer has improperly and illegally exercised his investigating powers in breach of any statutory provision, the court cannot interfere," the Bench said in its judgment. Even as Chidambaram received two setbacks from the lower CBI court and the apex court, another lower court here granted anticipatory bail to Chidambaram and his son Karti in another case related to alleged discrepancies in FIPB approvals for Aircel Maxis. In its order, the lower court judge held that since the probe agencies had not yet arrested former Union minister Dayanidhi Maran, who is alleged to have received bribe to the tune to ₹749 crore, it would be unfair to deny anticipatory bail to the Chidambaram and Karti, as the alleged bribe received by them was only ₹1.13 crore. The court ordered that should they be arrested in the Aircel Maxis case, they would be released on bail on furnishing bonds of ₹100,000 each. The court also The NCLT also fined the directed them not to leave the country without permission from it.

Bhushan Power owes close to ₹50.000 crore to a consortium of lenders led by Punjab National Bank. It is the sixth out of the 12 large stressed accounts identified by the Reserve Bank of India for resolution under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC). The RP of Bhushan Power had admitted claims to the tune of ₹47.204 crores from financial creditors of the company, while the operational creditors' claims of nearly ₹730 crores had been accepted. The insolvency process for Bhushan Power & Steel, like Bhushan Steel, remained one of the most litigated cases to come under the IBC. Liberty House, one of the initial bidders for Bhushan Power, had at the very onset challenged the lenders' decision to not open its bid for the company as it was late.

While the CoC had decided to close the bidding for the company on February 8, 2018, Liberty House had submitted its bid later that month on February 22. The decision of the CoC was challenged before the NCLAT, which ruled that the CoC must open all the bids that had come before it, including that of JSW Steel, Tata Steel, and Liberty House.

JSW Steel, which had initially made an offer of ₹11,000 crore on February 8 last year, submitted a revised offer of ₹18,000 crore on July 26. On August 13, 2018, the company improved its total offer to ₹19.700 crore, including better payment to several classes of creditors. Tata Steel, however, did not change its bid after making the final offer of ₹17,000 crore.

According to the resolution plan submitted by JSW Steel, financial creditors of Bhushan Power would get a total of ₹19,350 crore against the admitted claims of ₹47,204 crore, thereby recovering nearly 41 per cent. The operational creditors of the corporate debtor had been allocated ₹350 crore by JSW Steel as against their admitted claims of nearly ₹730 crore, thereby recovering nearly 48 per cent of their dues.
